New strain of fear felt as police seek rapist

While city police continue an intensive investigation following the rape Saturday of a young Canyon woman, some residents found an unaccustomed strain of fear.

A coed who lives near campus said she and her roommate had bought new locks for their door since the crime was reported.

"You always hear of something like that happening to someone else and you never think of it happening to you," she said. "But now, I think it can."

"Fear is a relatively new thing here," said a young Canyon mother. "People move here so they don't have to be afraid."

She said that for the first time as she and students left a community education class Thursday night that no one left the building alone.

"They wanted to go with a buddy," she said.

In looking for a babysitter, she said she had encountered a reluctance of mothers to allow their daughters to go out at night.

The mother of a high school girl reported that her inclination was to shelter her daughter but that she felt this was the wrong thing to do.

"It (the rape) upsets me but I'm not going to let it run my life," she said.

However, she said she has been more careful about locking doors and windows.

"I should have been that careful all along," she said.

The resident manager of an apartment complex said that residents there were definately upset.

"They are quite alarmed," she said. "We've been more watchful. We're much more alert now. I heard a horn honking and went out and check."

The victim alerted help by honking her car horn after she had been left bound and gagged in the locked vehicle.

The apartment manager said she had asked residents to report any suspicious noises or persons to her and she would notify police.

"If they'll call us, we'll take it from there. We'll call the police and my husband goes out with his long flashlight and checks."

Canyon police, investigating since about 6 a.m. Saturday morning when the woman was found, have questioned most of the residents in the area.

"We are checking out all possible leads," said Police Chief Al Stewart.

"Prevention by the police of rape is almost impossible," he said. "A burglary can be prevented by patrol. A burglar sees a patrol car go by and he gets the feeling of the presence of police. But a rape is usually planned and carefully executed."

"The public has to prevent rape by keeping doors and windows locked."

Stewart also urged residents to report suspicious incidents in their neighborhood.

A kindergarten youngster isn't too sure she wants to have anything to do with a baby porker as she only tentatively reaches out to the squealer. Kindergartners from Amarillo and Canyon schools came to the West Texas State University horse farm north of the city Friday to literally get a feel of farm life. Cows, horses, chicks and pigs were available for the kids to touch and watch.

Austin firm makes offer

Reappraisal price $360,000?

An Austin property appraiser told Randall County commissioners Thursday a complete reappraisal of the county could cost more than $360,000.

The figure came as a surprise to some commissioners, who had budgeted only about $40,000 for the reappraisal effort this year.

Clyde Hamilton, manager of Southwestern Appraisal Co. of Austin, told commissioners he would appraise the rural and subdivision lands, houses and business structures in the county for between $8 and $12 per parcel. The county has nearly 30,000 parcels on the tax rolls.

That fee, he said, would not cover appraisal of railroads, pipelines, or industrial properties.

Hamilton's proposal was only tentative and a firm offer for the reappraisal will be sent Tax Collector Mrs. Audrey Bruse within the next two weeks.

Commissioners are to meet with another appraisal firm during their regularly scheduled meeting Monday.

Hamilton said he could complete the reappraisal in 12 months and could use to a limited extent the work which has already been accomplished at a cost of more than $30,000 by a special county-managed appraisal team.

He said the records in Mrs. Bruse's office are well-maintained and would be beneficial.

Hamilton said he would expect payment on the reappraisal in 12 monthly installments.

While some commissioners apparently shuttered at his top figure for the reappraisal, Commissioner Jim Fletcher told Hamilton the court "is ready to go" on a reappraisal effort.

Commissioners began a reappraisal effort of the in-house variety two years ago and expected it to be completed within four years. However, their plan was foiled when John Carrington, a veteran appraiser who headed the in-house effort, resigned effective next week.

Commissioners discussed late Monday asking the City of Canyon, City of Amarillo and Canyon School District to share the costs of the reappraisal.

Commissioners Dee Griffin and Fletcher met with CISD Supt. Jerry Jacobs Thursday afternoon to discuss the possibility of cost-sharing.

Jacobs told The News last week the school district is fairly satisfied with a 1966 reappraisal, which county and city refused to jointly finance, and would have to study the proposition.

In other business Thursday, commissioners passed a resolution calling on Gov. Dolph

WT council wants hand in budget preparation

West Texas State University Faculty Council members voted unanimously Friday to form a special committee to represent faculty interests in the university's budget-preparation procedure.

A motion by Bob Muir was okayed to form a three-member panel to communicate to the administration the priorities of the faculty and report back to the faculty council on the priorities the university uses in allocating resources.

Action on the move was spurred when two representatives of the local chapter of the Texas Association for College Teachers told the council it should become actively involved in setting budget priorities for the university and should study the budget to determine what priorities are being funded.

Dr. Allen Early and George Ritter said local TACT members have recommended that increases in faculty salaries to be top priority for the university.

The local TACT unit asks also, Early said, that the council become a watchdog of the budget.

Ritter said the council should evaluate the budget each year to determine university priorities and how the faculty fits into those priorities.

Ritter said the state-wide TACT organization will ask the Legislative Budget Board to allow faculty members to have some input into university budget preparation.

Dr. Walter Shelly, chairman of the council, said the council had been told some time ago by University President Lloyd Watkins that the council could have input into the budget preparation procedure.

Muir stressed that university administrators are now establishing the budget for the next biennium and that action should be taken to form a committee to have some input into that

City men are named outstanding

Six Canyon men and one from Happy have been named Outstanding Young Men of America.

The awards were announced last week by the editors and advisors of the 1976 edition of a reference volume by the same name.

The program is sponsored annually by the U.S. Jaycees and other men's civic and service organizations.

Those from Canyon named for the award were David Thomas Hughes of 1903-3rd Ave., Jim Curtis of 1911-3rd Ave., Willis Haws of 1003-3rd Ave., Gene V. Morrison of 1307-9th Ave., Dick Clardy of Canyon, and Carroll Wilson of 1105-5th Ave. Vincent Venhaus of Happy was also

Presidential primary delegates visit city to boost GOP, Demos

With less than a week remaining before the May 1 Democrat and Republican primary elections, state and national candidates have virtually completed campaign forays into the Randall County area.

Representative of two more Presidential hopefuls visited in Canyon last week to boost not only their candidate by also their primary as the scene for real decision-making next Saturday.

Hank Grover, a former Republican candidate for governor, said here Thursday Ronald Reagan will carry Texas Republican primaries over incumbent President Gerald Ford, and ballot delegates for Democratic Sen. Lloyd Bentsen were less optimistic about their candidate's chances.

The Reagan and Bentsen campaigns were in Canyon just days after Jack Carter, son of Democratic Presidential Candidate Jimmy Carter, spent a two-day period campaigning in the area for his father, and less than a month after President Ford visited the city.

Presidential delegate balloting heads the list of primary election decisions which will face voters Saturday as they go to the polls.

In the Republican primary, voters will cast ballots either for four delegates for Reagan or four delegates for Ford, or any mixture.

In the Democratic primary, voters will vote for three delegates for Bentsen, three delegates for Carter or three delegates for George Wallace, or any mixture.

Grover, who campaigned in Canyon four years ago for his own Republican bid for governor, said the only question facing Reagan supporters now in Texas is how much the former California governor will lead Ford in the primary balloting.

Elections 76

Grover predicts a solid Reagan win over Ford here, but is also enthusiastic about the apparent interest in the Republican primary in what has been a traditionally one-party state.

"The most interesting thing," he said, "is that the Republican absentee vote is now exceeding the Democratic absentee vote."

The interest in that Republican primary has been generated, he said, by the Reagan campaign.

Nevertheless, Grover admitted, if Ford beats Reagan in the balloting, it will be a serious blow to Reagan's chances at the 1976 convention.

Grover said he feels Reagan is truly a national candidate who can beat a Democratic

Museum head Hanson resigns as of Sept. 1

Dr. James Hanson, director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum here, has resigned his position effective Aug. 31, the News has learned.

The News learned that Hanson's resignation is apparently the result of bad feelings between the museum director and some members of the museum board.

Hanson confirmed Thursday night he has turned in his resignation, but he denied the resignation has come about from anything but his own desire to pursue other interests.

One museum board member termed Hanson "the best museum man in the country," and said his loss is "tragic."

"I hope he can come back but maybe it's (the situation) too far gone now," he said.

Hanson said Thursday he has had several offers to pursue short-term research projects in Alaska and for the Smithsonian Institution in Washington and wants to pursue those projects.

He said the museum's board "has been very supportive."

Hanson came to the Canyon museum in August 1973 and worked for nine months under retiring director C. Boone McClure. He took over management of the museum in May 1974 and since that time has been responsible for a major remodelling and rejuvenation effort of the museum.

Under his guidance, museum workers have redesigned the Pioneer Hall and are in the process of constructing a Hall of Historic Indians.

Hanson supervised the move of artifacts, mainly automobiles and wagons, to the old West Texas State University library building, and moved and restored the old T-Anchor Ranchhouse on the northeast corner of the library building.

Workers have also constructed storage facilities and have expanded workrooms for project

Police Lt. Tom Rolen tickets a car parked illegally in marked zones along 4th Ave. east of 23rd Street in front of several Canyon businesses. Businessmen asked the city to erect signs limiting parking in the block and the signs are now up. The block is the only street in the city where parking is limited.

City ambulance service in bind

Group reconsiders Metro offer

Representatives of the three local governments which subsidize Canyon's ambulance service met with Amarillo Metropolitan Ambulance Service officials Thursday afternoon to discuss the possibility of a new emergency system for the city.

Local officials said following the meeting it was called due to the financial instability of Canyon Ambulance Service, in operation here about a year under Manager Richard Bertrand.

Representatives of Randall County, the City of Canyon, and the South Randall County Hospital District board met with with Metropolitan officials to receive a tentative cost-analysis on operation of the service here.

The representatives of the local governments and Metropolitan officials are to meet again early this week to discuss a more formal proposal from Metropolitan.

Ray Grimes, administrator of Palo Duro Hospital, said the Amarillo ambulance service was asked to make a proposal on operation of an ambulance service in Canyon.

The current ambulance service in Canyon is given $3,000 per month subsidy from the three governments and has run into financial problems before.

Bertrand began operations of the service last spring after Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors told local officials they would not offer the service any more.

Last fall, the governments upped their original subsidies and placed Bertrand's books under the control of an outside auditing firm.

While Metropolitan Ambulance Service is expected to make a firm bid for the business early this week, officials attending Thursday's meeting said they're not sure what the ultimate decision on ambulance service here will be.

"Right now," said City Manager Glen Metcalf, "I can't say what will happen."

He said it might ultimately become the responsibility of one governing body in the area to provide service with the other governments kicking subsidies.

A plan by Bertrand to sell memberships in the ambulance service to individuals and families apparently never got off the ground a couple of months ago. He had said he hoped the additional funding would end his financial worries and might eliminate the need for subsidies.

To be reviewed before next April

Board defers WTSU doctorate

The state's higher education coordinating board Friday deferred action on a proposal by West Texas State University to offer a doctorate in agri-business.

A spokesman for the board said action on the program as well as nearly 100 programs from other colleges and universities will be deferred without prejudice for not more than one year.

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, WTSU president, has said he is confident the program will be eventually approved.

Watkins, several Amarillo agriculture and businessmen, and two WTSU deans, went to Austin Thursday and Friday to appear before the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System as well as the board's program development committee.

A spokesman for the board said the program development committee, meeting Thursday afternoon, recommended the full board defer action on the full range of proposed programs. She said the WTSU proposal received a favorable hearing.

All state colleges were asked earlier this year to voluntarily defer making proposals on new programs to the board unless the programs were of an emergency nature.

WTSU did defer recommending new programs in several planned areas but argued Thursday that the doctorate in agri-business would fall into the emergency category.

The board spokesman said the program development committee decided the WTSU proposal failed to meet the full emergency criteria.

She said the board has deferred action on the doctorate proposal as well as other college proposals to allow the board staff time to complete role and scope studies of each institution. The staff is to complete those studies before next April, she said, and if that happens, the board could meet in special session to consider the deferred programs.

Reassess the reappraisal

Whoa! Hold up there, Randall County commissioners.

With the resignation of John Carrington, the fellow hired to head up an in-house reappraisal of Randall County property, Randall County commissioners have a chance to reassess their reappraisal plans.

Reappraisal of all county property wasn't such a bad idea two years ago when it appeared the reappraisal, performed by special employees under Mrs. Audrey Bruse. But, that was when we expected the reappraisal to cost something around $100,000, with the outlay to be spread over about four years. about four years.

Now that Carrington has resigned, commissioners seem to have resigned themselves to the fact that they must hire an independent firm to perform the reappraisal and one appraiser told commissioners Thursday he'd charge them about $300,000 for the job and a partial job at that.

The reappraisal could cost around a half million before it's all done.

That's a little rich for our blood.

Not that reappraisal isn't long overdue. It most certainly is. Randall County, to the knowledge of those who should know, has never had a reappraisal. The tax rolls show a market value for property which is only a fraction of the true market value. Thousands of dollars in taxes are lost because of this situation.

But, while that is all true it is also true that there's something inately distasteful about hiking county taxes to come up with $300,000 or $400,000 for a reappraisal just so our taxes can be raised even more.

Fact is that Randall County commissioners don't know for sure that there's not another way to bring our tax rolls up to date without going through a full reappraisal effort.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi openly wondered a couple of weeks ago whether in this age of computers, some kind of system for reappraisal couldn't be worked out utilizing tax office information from the Canyon School District and the City of Amarillo.

That's still an idea worth pursuing. Perhaps the best way to go about it, now that Carrington has resigned and there's a lull in the reappraisal activity, is to hire an outside study team, possibly from West Texas State University, to study the alternatives.

An expenditure of nearly a half million dollars for a reappraisal should be a last resort if the study proves it is the only route feasible. — C.W.

Look again at additions

The contention that a new elementary school, if a bond issue is passed to allow construction, should be built in Canyon is not realistic. But, there is a germ of practicality in the idea that a new elementary school should be constructed somewhere other than in the middle of a wheat pasture.

That additional elementary school space is needed is not to be denied, but what form that space should take is debatable.

The school board has apparently determined that the space should be provided through construction of a new school. They have said in the past they prefer a small elementary school because it is easier to manage and parking and child pick-up problems are lessened.

But, could the school board solve two problems at once by compromising and deciding to build an addition onto Gene Howe School in the north part of the district?

On the one hand, the addition to Gene Howe would eliminate the need for purchase of a site and what can be anticipated as expensive site improvements such as water and sewer lines.

On the other hand, the addition would solve the space problem and would defuse the potential clamor for a school to be built in Canyon.

The CISD architect has said it cannot be realistically expected for an addition to be cheaper than a new building, but there might be some savings there somewhere.

Addition to Gene Howe might be criticized by those who say a 1000-student elementary school is simply too big. But, can they say in the same breath that students at Rex Reeves Elementary School, which will have more than 1000 students next year, are receiving a less than excellent education?

Gene Howe area residents would probably not support the proposal, either. But, if their threat of two weeks ago is to be believed, they're not going to be made happy unless the CISD board builds not only a new elementary school, but a junior high or high school also.

Perhaps an addition wouldn't be the practical way to arrive at a solution to the elementary grade overcrowding. But it would certainly warrant some study. — C.W.

Letters to the editor

Plenty said wrong with dancing

Dear Sir:

Well, I thought I would stay out of the letter writing to the editor, however, Mrs. Merriman, George Hale and Tim Martin should stop and re-evaluate their own convictions. If you think nothing is wrong with dancing classes (western dancing, rock dancing) you should go to Amarillo on Amarillo Blvd. and go in some of those places. 90% of the people in those places are kids 18 years old. They are dancing, drinking and looking for a pick-up. These kids learned to dance at school dances and learned to like dancing at school sponsored dances. But who chaperones them now? How many kids spend the night in jail on drunk charges and DWI charges returning from Amarillo clubs and dances? But no, after they get out of school the teachers and school sponsors are not responsible for them. And they still claim dancing in school is harmless.

And where does Mrs. Merriman get the idea it is alright to sin for the sake of the band. What Bible does George Hale read that has only two commandments? Sex is reserved for two people united in holy matrimony. Does he have a daughter that he has told it is okay to have sex for love's sake?

Mr. Martin said satan and Christ go hand in hand. What Mr. Martin should do is decide which one he is going to choose. Bro. Jim Brown is a dedicated Christian and knows his scripture. He is not misleading his flock. We will not answer to Bro. Brown on judgment day. God will be the judge and He alone will decide if we are to spend eternity with him in heaven. I know the things I am saying are true because I have been there. I spent 23 years as a musician and I have seen what happens in these places. But I praise God he took away my desire to associate with this type of thing.

In Romans 12:1 quote: "I beseech you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Jack Daniels

Was Jim Brown there?

Dear Sir:

In reply to the article of April 11, 1976 written by Jim Brown.

I just can not imagine anyone writing garbage on the pages of our papers like that. He says the CHS dance-a-thon was evil. How can he say dirt and filth? Were you there? What did you see then that I didn't Mr. Brown?

Having a daughter at the dance we drove down to the school at 2:30 a.m. and went in. We saw nothing going on but good dancing with young men and women. We saw the sponsors and teachers there supervising thanks to them.

What is Jim Brown talking about, "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me?" I saw no adoration to no one going on. I read in the Bible, "Judge not less you be judged, judgement is mine says the Lord." Mr. Brown had better take that pointing finger and put it back into his pocket. Let's see Jim Brown supporting these young people instead of snowballing them.

I'm glad these young people are trying to support themselves and raise money for their projects, rather then just ask Mom & Dad for money. Hard work helps maturity.

Those hard working teachers, sponsors and chaperones need an apology I believe from Jim Brown. How about the hard working band kids that worked so hard getting people to sponsor them, only to be cut down by Mr. Brown.

Lift up your heads all, there is always a sorehead in every group.

Thank you for letting me express myself in support of our youth of the Canyon Schools. I certainly want to express my appreciation to all the great teachers of Canyon we are still there.

Sincerely,
George & Calista Huber

Jim Brown commended for dance stand

Dear Editor:

I read the article by Jim Brown about the school dance-a-thon and the things that usually go along with such an activity, or as he put it, the satanic extras. Drinking, drunkeness, and sex are usually associated with dances to some degree. I would have to agree with him, these things are of satan. I certainly don't believe they are of God. I commend him for taking a stand.

Was the all-night school dance-a-thon different from most dances, or did some of these things go on? Well, by the mouth of students and others that were there, there was drinking going on and there were students there drunk. Students came and went as they pleased. I wonder how many parents thought their children were at the dance all night, well chaparoned.

Last Sunday I read the letters written to the editor attacking Jim Brown's article on the dance-a-thon. The things that surprised me most were that some of the articles were written by persons who said they are Christians and secondly, some of the beliefs about what the Bible says. It is true that all 10 Commandments can be summed up in two: First, to love the Lord our God with all our heart, soul, and mind — and secondly, to love our neighbor as ourself, (Matthew 22:37-40). I fail to see how an all-night dance-a-thon and drinking and drunkeness and the opportunities a function like this provides fulfill these commandments.

Sex is a beautiful part of our nature, but God gave it to us and intended it to be used in marriage only.

Also satan and Christ have never gone hand-in-hand and never will. Satan has always been, and always will be, an adversary of Christ. It would better be said what would we do with satan if we didn't have Christ. Christ is our only hope and strength.

As I read those letters and thought about them, I thought about the time when Christ was here on earth and how He was rejected and attacked by the religious leaders and people of that day. We seem to live in a field-dependent society which is tilted and we can't percieve things as they should be. We seem to follow the philosophy of whatever we do is ok if it is for a good cause, or that the end justifies the means. If we continue to follow such a philosophy, it will lead to many problems in society. I want to point out that I think we have a very good school system, but I am against such activities as the dance-a-thon.

Guidelines given for new schools

To the CISD School Board and Administration.
To the Editor of the Canyon News:

With a sense of duty to the total community and in a spirit of cooperation, I as a farmer-rancher wish to present some guidelines towards the presentation of any future school bond issues. The majority of agriculturists feel that the location of any new schools outside the corporate limits of a city encourages further rural development. Lack of municipal water and sewer facilities in the studied school site areas could result in problems such as now being experienced in the village of Umbarger.

Locating another school in the Amarillo city limits will only "fly bait" more expansion. Another basic guideline is that the Canyon Community shall be and remain the basic and majority influence of the CISD. A continuing and positive approach towards the deannexation of land and newly developed areas into the Amarillo ISD should be formulated before any further school bond referendum. School boundaries, busing routes, etc., should be made to give preference to the longtime residents of the Gene Howe area. New and prospective residents of that area should be duly and publicly informed that their schools will be in Canyon.

With these guidelines in mind, the city of Canyon is the only feasible future school site. I would like to recommend as a

Price hurting for issues now

By CARROLL WILSON

Watching Bob Price try to prove he's more conservative than Jack Hightower is like watching a beetle try to squinch his way under a flat rock sitting on concrete.

Hightower is conservative by even the conservative standards of the district he represents in Washington.

It is preposterous to point to Hightower's American Conservative Union rating for the previous two years and then to Price's ACU rating for two years he served in the House and find a parallel. Each Congressional session is different with different bills and different issues. You simply can't compare one to another.

That Price is having extreme difficulty in proving himself more conservative than Hightower is evident in the tone of the former Congressman's campaign itself.

When Price was an incumbent, he knew good and well he had a victory cinched when his opponents began speaking not to issues but to personalities.

And, part of the reason Price was beaten by Hightower last time around was not just because of the Watergate mess, but because it became embarrassingly apparent to the voters that Price was an administration man to the hilt.

He backed Nixon down to the wire. He gyrated violently on Vietnam, advocating early that we use nuclear warheads there and later, when the administration adopted a new line, wavering like a reed in the breeze.

First, he ran as a staunch anti-communist. Then, when the administration plucked his strings, he jumped to support detente.

Wishy-washy is what you'd call it.

Hightower, on the other hand, has proven himself stable.

I've felt for some time that Hightower is a good man, a decent fellow, someone who will vote his conscience, who will do his best.

Texas Monthly, the magazine from Austin, will have an article in its May issue which substantiates what I've felt. It's good to be right occassionally.

The Monthly article describes Hightower as a fair-to-middlin' Congressman, but notes that even a fair-to-middlin' Congressman from Texas is a better-than-average Congressman when compared with the legislators from throughout the country.

"In his first term, he has come to symbolize a figure straight out of the solid and upright nineteenth-century tradition: An American Gothic congressman," the magazine says.

And, the authors quote what they call a liberal Congressman on Hightower: "I guess one reason I like Jack so much is that there are so damn few really decent people like that up here."

Hightower, the magazine says, is one of those myths which we all live by — the congressman who votes his conscience, represents his district by organic instinct, but is capable of rising above parochial considerations when national interests are at stake.

"If that weren't enough," says the magazine, "he lives a Spartan existence in a one-room efficiency apartment, sleeps on a couch that unfolds into a bed, washes his own socks, and drives an old car to work."

The magazine characterizes Hightower as a man of scrupulous honesty and hard work.

"In a town overpopulated by small people with large egos, it is a relief to find one for whom the reverse is true," it says.

Why voters are angry

By ANN BROWN

It is quite obvious that every politician clamoring for office knows the voters are angry. None, however, seems to be aware of what they are angry about.

The candidates are zeroing in on inflation, unemployment, welfare, and wild and wasteful government spending. They are right that the villain is Washington; but they seem to have missed the point that has aroused so much indignation: moral turpitude.

Voters are outraged by political tycoons who break the law and get by with it. They squander and steal millions of tax dollars, while the little man goes to prison for trying to keep a little of his own money from the ever-vigilant eyes of the IRS.

Daniel Yankelovich has published a new research survey that shows 83 per cent of the people polled think morality in the U.S. is "bad and getting worse."

While Americans are concerned about the loss of purchasing power, they are most distressed by the evidence that inflation is stealing their savings.

In addition to their constant fear of crime, the voters are outraged that criminals go unpunished because of laws passed by politicians.

And while they are being bled white by taxes, working people know the idle poor and idle rich pay little or nothing.

The man who must hold down two jobs to survive — or put his wife out to work — can't help being angry at politicians who make it possible for about half the population to live without working at all.

The decadents get the publicity, but it is quite evident that the majority of working Americans still live by the Puritan ethics that built our country.

We elect politicians and pay them enormous salaries to protect us. And instead they protect pornography, condone crime, and even take away from us the basic right to control and educate our own children.

Angry voters have already switched parties, and changed candidates, but nothing seems to help. When they get to Washington, politicians seem to join the socialistic crowd pushing us deeper into the red or they get brushed out.

No society can exist unless a controlling power is placed upon will and appetite. If it does not come from within, it will eventually come from without.

Men are qualified for self government in exact proportion to the moral chains they are willing to put on their own appetites.

When Washington, D.C., consumes about 4 times as much liquor as the national average, and their divorce and murder rates are a national scandal, it is obvious the nation's leaders are not chaining their appetites.

No organization is likely to be any better than its leadership.

Never in recorded history have men of intemperate minds remained free for long. Their fancies forge their fetters.

Washington is on a collision course. Good Americans are angry at the politicians who are doing the steering.

The Kitchen Sink

BY SUSAN WILSON

When we began planning a party for our junior high group at church it seemed like a good idea at the time to have pizza. After all, the kids love pizza — it's fairly simple to make — and serving is easy, all you need is napkins. We were talking about, oh — maybe 25 kids. Then things began to snowball and — well, to make a long story short, we are now supervising an assembly-line process of 75 pizzas for well over 100 kids.

"I guess I got carried away," I explained meekly to Hubby, while I stirred sauce. "You do that a lot!" he grumbled as he grated cheese.

"No, I don't!" I replied defensively, then returned to the sauce.

"Oh, yeah?" Hubby said. "You get carried away with everything!"

"Name one thing!"

"The heater, for instance. We needed a new heater. I turned it over to you and we ended up with not only central heat, but a remodeled kitchen, a remodeled bedroom, a ¾ bath, and new rugs in the living room.

"Okay, so maybe that once..."

"And then there was the time that you made a rag doll, and figured it was so easy you'd make a few more for the family reunion ... how many did you end up with? 25?"

"Twenty-seven. But..."

"And gingerbread houses. Most people only make 1, if they make any. Last year you made 12. We ate nothing but gingerbread for three weeks."

"Well,"

"... and parties! The first party we had after we were married — you invited 75 people!"

"So?"

"So we were living in a tiny 1 bedroom apt. Two guests had to sit in the refrigerator."

"But..."

"Susan, face it. You simply carry most things too far."

"Maybe you're right," I weakened. "Perhaps I ought to work on improving that."

"It wouldn't hurt," Hubby replied sarcastically.

"O.K., I will. And while I'm at it, maybe I could improve my housekeeping ... and I could work on my procrastinating ... and my disposition ... and my posture..."

Hubby just sighed at the pepperoni.

Woody Pond named boss of the year

County Judge Woody Pond was named Boss of the Year Thursday night by the Tierra Blanca Chapter of the National Secretaries Association.

Pond received the award at the chapter banquet in Hereford.

He was nominated by Mrs. Clarissa Thomas, his secretary.

Pond was cited for his support of NSA activities and his interest in educational opportunities for secretaries.

Woody Pond

Canyon's Outstanding Citizen for 1973, Pond serves in various civic capacities. He is past commander of the local American Legion post, member of the local Masonic lodge, past board member for Girlstown U.S.A., past director for the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, a board member for Bib Brothers of Canyon, board member for the Canyon Opportunity Plan, Inc., member of Lions Club, board member for the Canyon Senior Citizens Association, and member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In addition, he has served as president of the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation, the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association, the Panhandle Manpower Consortium, and has been active in the United Peace Officers of America, the Randall County Historical Survey Committee, the Vocational Advisory Board for the Canyon school district, and the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

Pond was a farmer and rancher in Roberts County before being elected county judge there in 1948 and 1952. He was postmaster of Miami, Texas, two years and served with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and as a juvenile probation officer here before being elected to the local bench.

Student seriously hurt in leap from dorm balcony

A university student who dived off a second floor balcony of Jones Hall late Wednesday night was still listed in critical condition Friday in the intensive care unit at Northwest Texas Hospital.

Guy Price, a junior from Borger, gave no warning he was going to jump, campus security chief Jim Passons said.

The student, a resident of Jones Hall, was talking to five other dorm residents about midnight Wednesday when he suddenly began to run down the hall and leaped head first over the balcony, Passons said.

Price was not unconscious when campus police reached him, Passons said. He received head and back injuries in the fall.

Passons said there was no indication of either drug or alcohol use prior to the jump.

Ed Womack's rites conducted

Funeral services for Ed Womack, 88, of Happy were held Saturday at 2 p.m. in Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel at Canyon with Rev. Paul Heil, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Happy, officiating.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME took effect at 2 a.m. today as clocks were switched forward an hour across the country. (Some folks made the switch to the earlier hour before retiring last night).

The National Weather Service reports that the return to regular time will take effect the last Sunday of October this year. This sure beats the year when we got kids off to school an hour before sunup — then had to put them to bed at mid-afternoon.

A $100 CONTRIBUTION for the Canyon Community Family Services future support for needy in the community has come in recently, from Taylor and Sons Food Store in Canyon.

Carmen Hernandez, projects coordinator for the family services, says that the contribution, along with proceeds of the annual Mexican dinner "will go a long way toward this year's support of those who need it."

SENIOR CITIZENS AND other folks who desire to take a defensive driving course in early May have been asked to sign up with Martha Goodman, 655-3412. Only thirty-five will be admitted for the course to be held May 4-5. When successfully completed the course can result in participants receiving a deduction on insurance rates for the coming year.

SOMETHING UP-COMING FOR area residents is a public book review to be presented Monday evening, May 3, at the Canyon Community Center. The program will begin at 7 p.m. and will present Terry White, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Baldwin J. Stribling, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as the reviewers. Refreshments will be provided by the Canyon Public Library Board following the program and all interested folks are encouraged to participate.

MRS. JACK BRADLEY at #16 Hunsley Hills Boulevard opened her home and had Dorothy Burrus as a supper guest last week.

OVER AT 1100 Hillcrest, the former Ethel Lewis and her husband, Paul Meador, are splitting the household goods which both have acquired over the years. Mrs. Meador reports that two mixers, two toasters, and other household appliances in matching pairs require too much cabinet space.

Congratulations to the couple on their recent marriage — and uncluttered kitchen cabinets following this weekend's garage sale.

AN UPCOMING EVENT for local Boy Scout troops will be participation in Jamboree '76 at Camp Don Harrington during mid-May when troops from all over the area participate in a weekend campout and a variety of badge work projects will be underway. Adult leaders are required for each unit attending the Spirit of '76 Jamboree.

* * *

MRS. RAY FULLERTON of Canyon visited in Pampa for the Easter holiday as guest of her son and family, the Edward Lehnicks.

MONTY, MELISSA AND Bryan Chitty of Vernon were in Canyon for an Easter visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chitty.

ED AND NANCY Collier and their two sons, Eddie and Michael, spent a long Easter week end visiting with friends and relatives in St. Charles, Mo.

En route to Missouri the family auto took the wrong turn out of Oklahoma City and delayed their arrival by way of Fort Smith, Ark. They report that the trip was a good spring vacation for all.

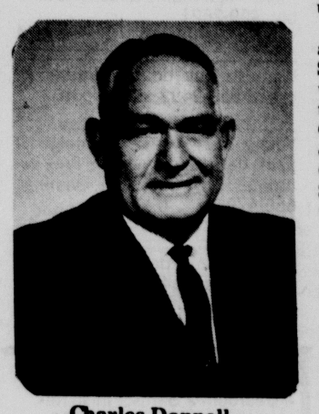
Charlie Donnell's funeral rites held in city Friday

Longtime Canyon resident, Charlie Donnell, who was named as the "citizen of the year" twice and served as Canyon's Mayor and former president of the Chamber of Commerce, died April 22 at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

Born July 31, 1912 at McLean, Donnell moved to Canyon in 1921 and attended Canyon Public Schools, later graduating from West Texas State University in 1935. He was an honorary member of the "T" Club.

Mr. Donnell had served with the United States Marine Corps in the South Pacific during 1943-46 and participated in the Japanese surrender at Tsing Tao, China on Oct. 25, 1945.



Charles Donnell

The City of Canyon named Donnell as the "outstanding citizen" twice in the years of 1952 and 54. He served as Canyon's Mayor from 1958-60 and was president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce in 1954. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Canyon and First Baptist Church of Canyon.

On Dec. 23, 1938 he married the former Eula Hardman at Canyon. He had worked in theatre areas since the age of 12 when W.J. Wooten, Sr. was managing the local movie businesses. He was involved in the operations of the Olympic Theatre in downtown Canyon, the Canyon Drive In on the Hereford Highway and the Varsity Theatre, near the university campus.

Funeral rites were conducted at 2 p.m. Friday, April 23, at the Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel with Rev. Jim Hancock, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Canyon, officiating. Burial was conducted at Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon.

Pallbearers included John Whinnery, Dr. Tom Gerald, D.C. Gamble, Roy Cheatham, Felix Pierce and Johnnie McBroom.

Support beef research act

Dear Editor:

Politics are running high just now. And this is the time to write your congressmen about two very important events.

When Congress convenes after Easter on April 26th, they will again vote on the Beef Research and Information Act, HR 7656. The bill now reads as it passed the House of Representatives originally. It has the support of ANCA, Farm Bureau, and other general farm and commodity groups.

This is a self-help program to help the industry and consumers by means of production, marketing, and nutritional research and education programs.

HR 7656 is only enabling legislation which is the first step for the industry to be able to vote in a referendum as to whether it wishes to assess itself on the basis of sales of live cattle to fund the program outlined. The assessment is a .03% of each sale (or thirty cents per one hundred dollars) with the collection point being the point of slaughter. Cattlemen need this so that we will never again have to live through another crises such as the one in 1973-74.

This is it! It is vital that you contact your House and Senate members immediately by letter, wire, or telephone asking them to vote FOR the conference report. If your members voted "yes," ask them to please to do so again and thank them. If they voted against us, ask for their "yes" vote this time.

The estate tax laws concern most of us in this area. This reform may be thrown out or simply not brought to the floor if we do not gain action before election. Contact your congressmen and senators by mail or in person and ask them to support the change in estate tax laws. Then send copies of your letters to Congressman Al Ullman, Chmn. House Ways and Means Comm., 1102 Longworth House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20510.

Emphasize that agriculture earning capacity of farm and ranchland, rather than speculative or non-ag use, should be the basis of evaluation for estate tax purposes. Also, cite the need for increase in estate tax exemption to $200,000.

Act today!

Mary Neal Henry

Echoes...

struck Saulsberry "all spraddled out" and painted the town crimson by killing twenty persons and burning the town on last Thursday night.

When the report reached Canyon the people here gave it little or not credit, but as all kinds of bloodcurdling reports kept coming in, our people commenced to take things a little more serious, and when the stage driver arrived here Saturday at 10 a.m., he told the thing more scary than ever and said that reports reached Amarillo just before he left that the state rangers were fighting the Indians and that two or three of the rangers had been killed.

He further said the red skins were making for the Tule and would very likely cross the canyons at this place.

The story was then believed by all of our citizens and they began to make ready to fight the Indians. Runners were sent out in all portions of the county and by three o'clock in the afternoon the town was alive with armed men — the women and children being placed in the court house as a place of safety. Heavy lumber was secured and a breast works made on all sides and the men walked around town waiting for "the little thing to take place."

In the meanwhile, Sheriff Wise and James Patton were dispatched to Amarillo to find out anything they could in regard to the way the Indians were moving. They returned home about sundown and reported the whole thing a farce and without a word of truth in the report.

Our citizens then stacked arms and once more breathed easy. Quite a number of men here took their wives and children to Amarillo. Everybody was badly scared and there is no use denying the fact. It is a strange thing how such reports can get out and be carried so far without any foundation whatever.

named for the honor.

"In every community there are young men working diligently to make their cities, as well as their country, better places in which to live," Dough Blankenship, chairman of the program advisory board, said. procedure.

In the last biennium budget proposal sent to Austin, the university placed faculty salaries as the top priority item for funding.

In other business Friday, the council discussed at length the possibility of having pre-registration at the university for students.

They noted with disdain a recent advertisement run by Amarillo College in the WTSU student newspaper telling students to "avoid the hassle" of registration by coming to the pre-registration procedures at the Amarillo school.

And, they informally asked Shelly to send a copy of the ad to Watkins and Dr. Donald Cates, WTSU registrar.

Roy Martin criticized Cates for taking a negative approach to the possibility of offering pre-registration to WTSU students during a recent meeting between Cates and department chairmen.

"Cates speaks with forked tongue," one council member said.

Cates had told the council earlier this year he would favor pre-registration but funding would not be available.

Martin said Cates seemed to deprecate pre-registration in the meeting with department heads.

New council members elected by WTSU schools and colleges were announced during the session. Dr. Jack Walker will serve from the School of Fine Arts, Ronnie Waide was re-elected from the College of Education, Dr. Barry Duman was named from the School of Business, Ralph Harbin was re-elected from the School of Agriculture, and Dr. George Asquith and Mrs. Patricia Donovan were named from the College of Arts and Sciences.

challenger in November.

"This is not another '64," he said. "That was 12 years ago and a lot of people realize we would have been better off if we had elected Goldwater. The American people have gotten a tremendous education and I don't think they can be taken in by the national media."

Grover said he backs Reagan's conservative political philosophy.

"We've got to have something to turn the federal monster around and I think Reagan has shown he has the dedication and capacity to do that in California," he said.

Just a day before Grover's visit to Canyon, three delegates on the Democratic primary ballot for Bentsen visited the city.

State Sen. Max Sherman, Dumas Attorney James Lovell and Mrs. Travis Spears of Levelland agreed that Bentsen will probably not be a viable national candidate and, indeed, does not expect to go to the convention next summer with the White House in his sights.

In fact, they said, it is possible the only uncommitted delegates on the Democratic primary ballot will be the Bentsen delegates.

A vote for a Bentsen delegate then, they said, would allow Bentsen and Gov. Dolph Briscoe to lead a Texas delegation to the convention which could form a cohesive unit.

Sherman said Carter apparently understands this and has gone out of his way not to alienate Bentsen delegates or forces in Texas.

Hanson has actively expanded the collections of the museum, particularly military, Spanish Colonial and clothing and textiles.

A crew from the museum designed and constructed exhibits at the Coronado visitors lodge in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Since Hanson took over the museum, visitation has expended from 86,000 in 1973 to 143,000 last year.

The museum under his tutelage has been thrown open for a variety of special programs, including last fall's Bicentennial Ball.

Hanson has also authored two books while in Canyon, one on Indian weapons and another on clothing of Mountain Men.

Briscoe to call a special legislative session to deal with the cost of natural gas to irrigation farmers.

Donald Olson, president of the Randall County Irrigation Gas Users Association, presented the resolution.

The resolution specifically hits the pass-through of gas costs paid in the field by the gas company and mandated for consumers.

Commissioners also approved on a 4-1 vote continued participation in a consortium to administer the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Acts.

Griffin voted against the resolution, saying continued federal spending must stop.

Bill Cheshire of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission met with commissioners to answer questions about the consortium.

Fletcher, who had opposed the program earlier, said he would vote for approval "because it's one of those things we don't have any choice about."

Group wants tennis funds

A fund-raising committee to build tennis courts in Canyon was formed this week by local tennis buffs.

Headed by John Childs, the group hopes to raise enough money through contributions to build several courts.

Members include Dr. W.J. Wooten, Bill Davis, Larry Wall, Charlie Boston, Fred Stoker, Stan Elliott, Linda Elliott, Weyman Brown, Frank Dillard, David Kent, Eileen Kent, and Virginia Cotton.

"The location of the courts is not as important as having courts," said Childs. "They can be at the high school, at the new city park, anywhere you want them."

Childs said unlighted courts cost about $8,000 each and that the group hopes to be able to get at least three. Money donated for tennis could be used by the parks and recreation board to apply for matching funds from state and federal sources, he said.

"We have no place for our high school tennis team to play. No place for townspeople to play, especially our youth," Childs said. "We need courts, particularly for youth."

The committee will function through the parks and recreation board to funnel all tennis donations into tennis, he said.

Contributions should be made to the Parks and Recreation Fund — Tennis, Childs said, and given to committee members.

The committee will collect and earmark all donations and then deposit it in the parks fund.

WT student in audition

Gary Thrasher, a senior at West Texas State University from Amarillo, will compete in the Amarillo Symphony Student Soloist Auditions April 28.

He was recently chosen as a preliminary finalist at the Metropolitan Opera National Council District Auditions in El Paso to qualify for the regional finals in San Antonio.

As one of four winners, Thrasher received a $200 award in the El Paso competition. He did not place in San Antonio but received an $85 award as a finalist.

Thrasher, a baritone, sang "Eri tu che macchiave" from "Un Ball in Maschera" by Verdi. He is a student of Elsa Porter, assistant professor of music.

Auditions were sponsored by the Junior Leagues of El Paso and San Antonio in cooperation with the University of Texas at El Paso and San Antonio College.

Thrasher, a 1971 graduate of Palo Duro High School, is a music therapy major. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thrasher of 4404 Bell, No. 112.

Board asks park funds

The parks and recreation board voted Friday to ask the city for $13,100 from the recent sale of the old city hall and library.

The money would be earmarked for tennis courts and the board would also ask the school board for matching amount, the parks panel said.

Chairman Henry Ritter will request the money at the next city commission meeting May 3. So far, $50 has been donated to the fund set up last month for parks and recreation contributions, treasurer Virginia Cotton reported. A special committee has been set up to raise money for tennis courts, she told the board.

The park and recreation board will meet again on May 7 at 4:30.

Easter service unites couple in nuptial vows

Double ring marriage vows were read on Easter Sunday, April 18, at the Chapel of St. George in Canyon uniting Miss Suzzanne Victoria Tenorio and Paul Ervin Easterday, Jr. in marriage.

Father Jack Gist, priest of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Canyon, officiated at the nuptial service where the wedding altar was flanked with two spiral candelabrum trimmed with greenery that trailed to the floor. The 15 bract candelabrum was highlighted with baby's breath and the church was accented with Easter lilies. Votive candles surrounded by greenery and baby's breath marked the pews and the profile kneeling bench was also trimmed with greenery and baby's breath.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tenorio of #15 Country Club Drive, Canyon. She is a 1973 graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State University and Amarillo College. She is a junior journalism major, member of Kappa Delta sorority, the Lambda Chi Crescents and employed with Xerox Corporation of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Easterday, Sr. of 5112 Leland, Amarillo are parents of the bridegroom. He graduated from Amarillo High School in 1970 and attended Amarillo College and served three years with the United States Army. He is employed by the Jim Stouse Agency in Amarillo.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length wedding gown of candlelight jersey designed with a V-neckline enhanced with a deep capelet collar. The long full sleeves were caught at the wrists by deep cuffs and the unadorned wedding skirt flowed softly to floor length. A self fabric sash encircled the waistline and was tied at the side front with a self fabric gardenia at the waist. She wore a matching jersey wide brimmed hat accented with a fabric gardenia and holding an elbow length veil of sheer bridal illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet arranged of ivory roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and greenery tied with an ivory satin ribbon.

Mrs. N.O. Ralston served as matron of honor. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers and wore a floor length seafoam green dress topped with a bolero jacket with full sleeves draping the side bodice.

Michael Woods served as best man and complemented his black tuxedo with a spring green ruffled shirt. Ushering were Richard Tenorio, Gene Tenorio and Michael Tenorio, all brothers of the bride, who also wore black tuxedos, spring green shirts, and spring mixed boutonnieres.

A reception followed in the church parlor where three serving tables were set up. The bride's table was covered with a floor length lace tablecloth and centered with a gold candelabra flanked by four candles and a large arrangement of spring flowers. The four tiered wedding cake was also decorated with fresh flowers and the crystal punch bowl contained pink fruit punch with a fruit ice ring. Gold flatware was used for serving.

The buffet table for the reception was draped with a floor length eyelet cloth and centered with a melon basket filled with melon balls, strawberries and other fruits. The buffet consisted of sliced turkey, ham, chicken salad in puffed pastry and assorted cheeses, crackers, miniature buns and rolls.

A round champagne table was used with the champagne fountain flowing with pink champagne. The table was covered with a pale yellow lace tablecloth.

Corsages of spring flowers matching their spring hued dresses were worn by the house-party members including Misses Natalie Acosta, Daveloyn Davidchik, Sylvia Reynosa and Camille Waghorne.

The entire wedding gown was adorned with Alencon lace appliques in a floral design and she wore a matching camelot cap, accented with lace and seed pearls, which held the tiered illusion veiling that terminated at fingertip length. The slide program was followed with a discussion on home gardening and a question-answer time. Mr. Brazzil has been a resident of Randall County for 25 years and is a graduate of Texas A&M University. He was introduced by the club president, Judy Becknell.

The meeting was held at 1103 Brookhaven in the home of Mrs. Charles Boston with Ella Brown and Shirley Slack as co-hostesses.

During the business meeting, Kathy Kendrick reported on the recently completed Miss Canyon pageant and noted that the audience number was larger than in 1975, despite the club's expectations since President Gerald Ford was speaking that same evening at the West Texas State University Fieldhouse.

It was reported that the club's gift to Miss Canyon, Cindy Brooks, will be a $75 wardrode account in preparation for appearances throughout the year. She was also assigned two club members to serve as publicity agents throughout the year of her reign.

Next meeting of the club will be May 17 at the home of Sheila Burket, #14 Southridge Drive, when the membership will conclude the year with a salad supper.

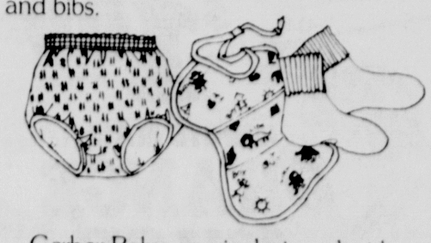
New arrival in town, Gerber® Babywear.

New Gerber Stretch Terry Coverall. Available in yellow and blue.

We're introducing a complete new line of baby clothes—undershirts, vinyl pants, socks, sleepers, coveralls, training pants and bibs.



Gerber Babywear is designed with two people in mind—you and your baby. Comfortable for the baby. Practical for you.

Quality is a lot of things.

When you spend your time creating products for babies, you learn how important being careful is. So—before we put the Gerber label on these baby clothes—we tested them thoroughly.

Including the final Gerber test: actually working in the home with mothers and their babies, to get the benefit of a mother's practical insight.

It was time well spent.

Because now we put a triple layer of material under the snaps of our sleepers and coveralls, so they're less likely to pull out.

And we've put snaps all around the diaper area so you don't have to remove the garment.

We took the guesswork out of sizing.

Babies just don't come in standard sizes. And that's why we took special care in developing our new sizing system, based on both weight and age.

It means you'll always be sure of a good fit with Gerber Babywear.

| SIZE | AGE | WEIGHT |
|---|---|---|
| 6 MONTHS | TO 6 MONTHS | UP TO 18 POUNDS |
| 12 MONTHS | TO 9 MONTHS | 19 TO 22 POUNDS |
| 18 MONTHS | TO 12 MONTHS | 23 TO 26 POUNDS |

Search for industrial site here to continue with Thurs. meeting

The search for a site suitable for an industrial park in or near Canyon will begin in earnest with a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. April 29.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Roland Black said several local committees interested in industrial development will meet in the special session at the city commission chambers in city hall.

Billy Taylor of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission is to meet with the group.

Black said the purpose of the meeting is to zero in on a handful of possible sites for use as an industrial park.

The possibility of planning and developing an industrial park near Canyon emerged distinctly recently with the announcement Canyon has been designated a growth center in the Panhandle-wide Economic Development Area. The designation opens the door to Canyon for funding under a variety of federal programs.

Several sites have already been mentioned as possible industrial park developments. One, just west of Canyon on U.S. 60, is adjacent Santa Fe rails and the highway. Another, north of the city about a mile, has been offered by Developer A.W. Lair. Another site is east of the railroad tracks just north of Canyon.

The Chamber industrial committee, the Board of City Development, and Canyon Industrial Foundation board and any interested citizens will attend the meeting.

Mission tour of world part of talk

T.M. Cole of Amarillo, a locomotive engineer for Santa Fe Railroad and a lay minister, will speak at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 28, at Calvary Baptist Church, 808-8th St. Canyon.

Cole will show slides of an around-the-world tour of the mission field made in 1975, and will testify about pastors and church members involvement in the movements "Here's Life America" and "One Nation Under God." Cole is district representative for the two movements. Arrangements for his speech in Canyon were made by Rev. Jim Brown, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, and an invitation is extended all residents.

"Here's Life America" is being promoted through the auspices of Campus Crusade For Christ of California, with the cooperation of local pastors and church members. This movement had its start in Atlanta, Ga., and with the cooperation of pastors and members of 91 churches of many denominations, in three weeks time more than 10,000 people had indicated their desire to receive Christ.

The "One Nation Under God" movement, promoted through the Christian Freedom Foundation of Washington, D.C., is designed to help turn the nation toward God.

Cole has filled speaking and teaching engagements in several states and several foreign countries. He has also ministered on radio and television. He has extended his ministry to marriage and family counseling, and has written a booklet on husband and wife relationship, choosing a mate, and relationships between parents and children.

He also composed a gospel song, titled "Glory to Jesus" and helps support missions in Thailand, India, Nigeria and the Philippines, through Christians' Activity Center, a non-profit organization of which he is president. He also helps promote and support the work of the World Literature Crusade.

CHS golfers win district title

Bill Turner shot an even par 108 for 27 holes to take first medalist honors in the district tournament held in Amarillo Thursday, while the CHS team outplayed four other schools to win the district title for the second year in a row.

Canyon shot a 450 for the tourney, topping second place Levelland by 25 strokes. Perryton finished third with 484 followed by Muleshoe at 516 and Dumas at 525.

Canyon had been defeated earlier this year by both Perryton and Levelland.

CHS golfers collected all the medals. For Turner, it was the second year in a row to take the district title, but his par performance is the best score a Canyon High golfer has turned in for a tournament, coach B.B. Kendrick said.

Bryan Garner and Sandy Winn tied at 113, just five over par, for second medalist honors. Garner won the medal in a playoff, however.

Jerry Paul Allen shot an eight over par at 116 and Roger McNabb turned in a 122, which was not used for the team score.

Canyon golfers will go on to regional play next Wednesday at Andrews. They will begin Wednesday afternoon with a practice round and then will play 18 hole rounds on Thursday and Friday.

Canyon's B-team took second behind Perryton in B-team competition.

Team members included Mark Hammons with a 126; Craig Howard with a 133; Rob Smith, 133; Brian Freidell, 135 and Ollie Sparkman, 139.

Reappraisal on co. agenda

Randall County commissioners are to continue their discussion of a possible massive reappraisal effort during their regular scheduled meeting Monday.

Commissioners have already interviewed two individuals and firms for the reappraisal. Others are to be interviewed Monday.

Discussion is also expected to continue on the approval of a plat for Canyon North, a subdivision just north of the Canyon city limits.

Sheriff Cliff Longest is to present a resolution calling for state funding of the Potter-Randall Metro Intelligence Unit, and Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod is to discuss hiring of a criminal investigator for his office.

An executive session during which commissioners are to meet with Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson to discuss personnel, is also scheduled.

Commissioners will meet at 1 p.m. in commissioners courtroom.

VFW Post to begin bicentennial fete

Lucius Penick Post 5681 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and it's Auxiliary in Canyon will begin a week-long observance of the American Bicentennial on April 25th that concludes on May 1st, which the organization traditionally marks as Loyalty Day, it was announced today by V.F.W. Commander-in-Chief Thomas C. Walker.

Each of the seven days will feature a special phase of Post & Auxiliary 5681's activities in the community as its contribution to Canyon's celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of the United States.

April 25th has been designated Religious Freedom Day, with all clergymen in Canyon being asked to devote sermons to "the nation's heritage and to seek new guidelines as in exploring the future."

Honor America Day, April 26th, will be set aside to pay tribute to citizens of Canyon "who have made significant contributions to the betterment of Canyon and have displayed devotion to the ideals and principles that have made the nation great."

April 27th will be Community Service Day and VFW Post & Auxiliary 5681 will undertake a project that will "contribute to the local nursing home in Canyon."

For Education Day, April 28th, Post & Auxiliary 5681 will seek to present Bicentennial programs in the schools and give small American Flags to kindergarten children.

April 29th, Help the Needy Day, will be devoted to Bicentennial programs in hospitals, nursing homes, retirement centers and other activities.

Uniformed Services Day, April 30th, has been chosen to honor active duty military servicemen, ROTC cadets and law enforcement personnel for their efforts toward protecting American freedom.

May 1st, Loyalty Day, authorized by Congress, is the culmination of the week's programs and Post & Auxiliary 5681 is planning extensive activities to highlight the occasion, according to Cal Stephens, Post Commander, and Hazel Cumby, Auxiliary President.

Tax change by schools leaves city uncertain

City officials were still unsure Friday what the school board's decision earlier this week to raise the percentage of valuation of property taxes will mean to them.

The school district and city operate a joint tax office and, until the change by the school board Tuesday Night, have both assessed property at 40 percent of its value.

The school board voted to up the percentage of valuation to 80 percent and left the tax rate open. The city, which operates on an April 1 fiscal year, set their percentage again this year at 40 percent and the tax rate at $1.82.

Now, with the increase by the school board, city manager Glen Metcalf and city attorney Elton Cox are looking at city options.

"Right now, I don't know," Metcalf said. "At this time, I don't know if a state law requires us to be on the same percentage. Or whether we can differ. Or if our contract with the schools requires us to be on the same percentage or not."

At any rate, convenience and efficiency or computer operation certainly requires the two entities to use the same rate, he noted.

Metcalf said that Cox was looking into the questions and that he would not have any idea on the city's next move until he got some answers.

"Possibly an amendment to our tax ordinance could be done" if it is needed, he said.

Metcalf pointed out that the city budget was already set based on the revenue produced by the 40 percent valuation and $1.82 tax rate.

Metcalf said at this point, he did not know if any action would have to be taken this fiscal year.

He said he expected to bring the question to commissioners after he had conferred with Cox.

Sen. Sherman, Dr. Mack to be honored at fete

State Senator Max Sherman and Dr. Mattie Swayne Mack, a retired English porfessor, will be honored at the first annual banquet meeting of the Friends of the West Texas State University Cornette Library.

Members of the organization will meet at 7 p.m. April 30 in the WTSU East Dining Hall. Tickets are $4.50.

Wales Madden, an Amarillo attorney, former University of Texas regent and member of the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System, will be guest speaker for the banquet.

Officers will also be elected at the meeting. Current officers are Dr. Allen Early, assistant professor of economics, chairman and Dr. Zell SoRelle, professor of speech and theatre, vice chairman.

Organized in April, 1975, the approximately 150 members of the Friends of the Library raised funds to add more than 65,000 volumes to the Cornette Library.

First contributor to the campaign was Sen. Sherman, who gave the $2,388 remaining from his Governor-For-a-Day Fund.

Dr. Mack then donated her personal library of 4,000 volumes of American, English and classical literature.

The Books for Buffs campaign has raised $3,955 from $15 donations from parents and students. For their contributions individuals may be honored on bookplates placed inside books purchased with the money.

Reservations for the banquet must be made by April 24 from the Friends of the WTSU Cornette Library, Box 748, WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016. Tickets may be picked up at the door.

New and renewal memberships to the Friends will be accepted before or after the meeting, Dr. Early said.

WT security says leads pointing toward arrests

Campus security police are working on leads now that should end soon in arrest of the male prowler reported to have frightened women dormitory residents, chief Jim Passons said this week.

Additional patrols and other, undisclosed, measures taken by the university have produced enough information that Passons said he expected to be able to make an arrest soon. He has conferred with the Randall County District Attorney Randy Sherrod on possible charges, he said.

Passons said he and university officials held a meeting last week with residents of Cross Hall to explain what has been done in the investigation. However, only 40 of the approximately 150 dorm residents attended the meeting, he estimated.

The prowler, described as a muscular black man dressed in women's clothes and wearing a wig, has not been reported seen in the womens' dorms in several days.

Amarillo student named WTSU ROTC queen Sat.

An Amarillo girl and her sister were named queen and sweetheart of the West Texas State University Reserve Officer Training Corps at its annual ball Saturday night at the Ramada Inn-Camelot.

Vicky Wilde, a WTSU junior, is the new 1976 queen, while her sister Terry, a senior, was named an ROTC sweetheart.

Also named sweetheart was Terry Dorough, a WTSU senior from Fairfax, Virginia.

Both Wilde sisters were among the first women in the U.S. to attend the two-year program basic camp at Fort Knox, Ky. last summer. The girls will return for the ROTC advanced camp at Fort Riley, Kans. this summer.

Major Russell I Moore, WTSU assistant professor of military science, crowned Miss Wilde as military ball queen and presented her with a bouquet of roses.

Guests at the ball, sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade Society, included Dr. and Mrs. Irby Carruth of Canyon, and Mrs. Darrell Cobb, the 1975 military ball queen.

Margaret Harper wins WTSU service honors

Margaret Harper, founder of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, was one of the 10 recipients of the Texas Panhandle Award for Distinguished Service presented by West Texas State University Saturday.

The 10 women, selected from 212 nominees, were recognized at the Bicentennial Luncheon on the WTSU campus for their distinguished business, professional and volunteer service. Presenting the keynote address at the luncheon was Texas Representative Sarah Weddington, who spoke on "Women: Past, Present and Future."

Best known for her work with the musical-drama "TEXAS," produced each summer in Palo Duro Canyon, Mrs. Harper is also the author of four major works, including the "Thundering Sounds of the West" and "They Came from Spain" which were presented in the canyon.

She has been given an award of recognition by the Canyon Kiwanis Club, named Canyon's outstanding citizen in 1965 and listed twice in the Amarillo Globe-News accolade.

In addition to her recent recognition from the Cowboy Hall of Fame, Mrs. Harper has received the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Cultural Achievement Award in 1967 and the Tourist Achievement Award from the Governor of Texas in 1974.

She has served as president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, the American Association of University Women, Canyon Community Concert Association and the Music-Arts Club of Canyon.

Mrs. Harper was born in Minnesota, grew up in Evanston, Ill., and has taught in Peru, South America and in Arizona. She received a bachelor's degree magna cum laude from the University of Arizona, and her master's degree from the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Harper and her husband, Ples, reside at 2523 5th Avenue, Canyon.

Rocky Thompson to lead alumni in spring game

When the West Texas State varsity defense lines up against the Buffalo Alumni offense on May 1, they had better believe that the old boys will probably be able to move the football.

Rocky Thompson, the New York Giants' number one draft choice in 1971 and a star with the World Football League's Shreveport Steamer in 1974 and '75, will be the big star in the Alumni backfield, making that unit a sure bet to move the ball against the young Buff defense.

"If their running backs are able to get organized, there's no question that the alumni will be able to move the ball," Head Coach Gene Mayfield says of the opposition. "This year's alumni team will certainly give a better challenge to our defense than it did last year."

Last year, the alums gained 124 yards all night and but 24 on the ground against a defense that was to eventually lead the Missouri Valley Conference in defense against the run. The varsity won last year's game by a 52-6 count.

But with Thompson, who led WT with 848 rushing yards in 1970, and some more top runners, it could be a much closer game. Rocky will have his old runningmate, Olan Thompson, for help, as well as 1975 senior Curtis Clinton and 1974-ex Jimmy Lisle.

All told, 38 ex-Buffaloes have accepted invitations to play in the game. Players must have completed their collegiate eligibility to be able to play in the game.

In addition to Clinton, 10 other members of the 1975 squad will play in the game. All-MVC stars Jeff Lloyd, John Jacobi, John Ayers, and Floyd Jones have accepted invitations, as well as Bruce Wyre, the leading kick-scorer in WT history.

Tickets for the Varsity-Alumni game, the annual end to WTSU's spring training, are available from all Amarillo-Canyon Boy Scouts. Seats are priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students (WT students admitted free) for the 7:30 p.m. game in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

Amarillo junior named WT woman of the year

Also announced at the banquet was the recipient of the Ruth Cross Scholarship, Debra Rene Andresen. Miss Andresen, a sophomore from Amarillo, is a pre-medicine major. She is the daughter of Carla Baker of 2040 S. Hughes.

Selected from a field of 29 nominees, Miss Abraham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.L. Abraham of 1604 Fannin Street, was nominated by the Residence Hall Association and the Panhellenic Council.

Miss Abraham, a data processing and computer science major, is vice president for the Association for Women Students and a member of Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority.

She is a member of the Student Senate from the School of Business and a member of the House of Delegates and the Women's Intramural Advisory Board.

Phil Gramm
for Senator

★ FOR TEXAS

FOR AMERICA

"We need a million more Americans working in private industry and agriculture helping to pull the wagon . . . . We don't need and cannot afford to have a million more people riding in the wagon on federal payrolls." — Phil Gramm

WHERE PHIL GRAMM STANDS ON THE ISSUES

Phil Gramm's Stand on: INFLATION

In the last ten years the federal government has run a $100 billion deficit and has driven up demand twice as fast as industry and agriculture have been able to produce new goods and services. As a result, prices have risen 70% in a decade. We will stop the inflation only when we slow down the rate of growth in government spending and put the federal government on a budget like everyone else. I will work to hold the growth in federal spending within the limits of the growth in tax collections to cut off the fuel to the fires of inflation. I will actively support a Constitutional amendment to eliminate the power of our federal government to run deficits except in national emergencies.

Lloyd Bentsen has voted for spending bills which would have produced nearly a $100 billion deficit in 1976 and is the freest spending Senator in Texas history.

Phil Gramm's Stand on: UMEMPLOYMENT

We will achieve full employment in the American economy only when we slow down the rate of growth in federal spending, balance the budget, free capital for private use and lower the interest rate so that people can again build and buy their own homes and invest in their own businesses. Over the last three years, the federal government has used up 60% of available savings to pay for government deficit spending. As a result, private industry and agriculture have not had the capital that was required to provide jobs for all Americans. I am opposed to the Public Employment Act which would put a million more people on federal payrolls. We need a million new jobs in private business where people are producing goods and services which we can consume. We need a million more Americans pulling the wagon; we do not need and cannot afford to have a million more Americans riding in that wagon.

Bentsen supports the Public Employment Act which seeks to put one million new people on the federal payrolls, and he has consistently voted to deprive private business of needed capital by voting for increased deficit spending.

Phil Gramm's Stand on: ENERGY

If we want more energy at a price we can afford to pay, we are going to have to produce more by opening up the Continental Shelf for drilling, not just along the Texas coast, but along the California and Massachusetts coasts as well. We must deregulate natural gas prices on the interstate sales so that people in the Northeast have to pay the same prices we pay here in Texas to provide incentive for new investment. We need a national energy program to reinstitute the depletion allowance and provide a stable market in which the energy industry can attract the hundreds of billions of dollars of investment needed to produce the fuel to turn the wheels of industry and agriculture. In testimony before the Congress and in work with the federal government, I have argued for removing restrictions on production and for letting the Free Enterprise System work.

Bentsen voted to eliminate the depletion allowance which cost Texas a billion dollars a year in investment and cost Texans thousands of new jobs and needed tax dollars which could have been used to upgrade Texas public schools. Then, while campaigning for President in the Northeast, Bentsen bragged that he had voted against his home state's largest industry.

Phil Gramm's Stand on: AGRICULTURE

I believe we have an opportunity with expanding world markets to make rural America not just a good place to live, but a good place to make a living again. I pledge to work toward an orderly growth of U.S. Agricultural Markets abroad not just for U.S. Grain but for U.S. beef as well. I will oppose any export quotas which seek to limit the ability of American farmers to sell their products on the world market.

Bentsen voted for the wage and price controls and the beef price freeze. Texas cattlemen and ranchers have lost millions of dollars because of this decision and its impact is still hurting the cattle industry. Our freshman senator voted against the interest of Texas' two major industries, oil and agriculture.
